Dear MU postdocs,

Find below some useful information for you. The new opportunities that I have not shared before are in blue.

External Awards, Fellowships, & Prizes

- Stanford School of Medicine's Propel Postdoctoral Scholars Program
 - Description: Attracts candidates in biological, biomedical, and population-based scientists drawn to academic careers from populations historically underrepresented in the biosciences.
 - Deadline: May 1
- See more funding opportunities here and search Pivot. Pivot is a searchable database of funding opportunities that also helps identify potential collaborators. You can also create alerts based on keywords and areas of interest.

Grant Writing Workshops

- NSF & SACNAS Grant Writing and Peer Review Workshop
 - NSF and SACNAS are hosting a workshop on Grant Writing and Peer Review for early career scientists! Participants of this workshop will learn to critique grant proposals as well as how to develop their own with the guidance of peers and advisors.
 - Postdocs who are interested in submitting a grant proposal to either the Biological Sciences (BIO) or Education and Human resources (EHR) directorates at NSF. You can learn more about BIO directorates at NSF here. You can learn more about EHR directorates at NSF here. This inaugural program is open to all applicants, but west coast participants will be given priority
 - Application deadline: Friday, May 6, 2022, 11:59 pm PT. Apply here.
