OPPORTUNITIES FOR POSTDOCS

From the Office of Postdoctoral Education

- MU Postdoc Connections Café
 - The Division of Research, Innovation, and Impact is collaborating with the MU Office of Postdoctoral Education to offer a Connections Café for postdoctoral scholars at Mizzou.
 - Join us for a fun, two-hour event designed to bring postdoctoral scholars together from across disciplines to meet, find research intersections, and build new relationships! Participants will meet other postdoctoral scholars, gain an understanding of Team Science and its value, as well as explore potential collaboration ideas.
 - This is a great opportunity for scholars to understand and identify research problems and areas, learn how research projects can benefit from multiple disciplinary perspectives, and to network across campus with other postdoctoral scholars.
 - The event will be facilitated by the MU Office of Postdoctoral Education and The Connector's professional development team. You can learn more about resources for postdoctoral scholars here. You can learn more about upcoming professional development events here.

Topics covered include a) What you need to know about how journalists work; b) Deciding whether to do a specific interview; c) Preparing your talking points; d) Combating misinformation; e) Getting out of uncomfortable interview situations; and f) Increasing the odds that a story you're featured in is accurate.
